CalTrans Announces Freeway Closures

Caltrans plans to begin overnight closures of all lanes on the 101 Freeway starting in mid- to late April in Agoura Hills for continuing construction on the Wallis Annenberg Wildlife Bridge.

Highway 101 will be closed between Liberty Canyon Road and Chesebro Road beginning at 11:59 pm Monday through Friday. All lanes will be closed in only one direction each night. Lanes in the opposite direction will stay open for traffic. Lanes will open by 5 am the next morning except Saturdays, when lanes may open later.

Caltrans will provide a convenient detour on local streets. To avoid delays on the street detour, freeway travelers can bypass the work zone by staying on an all-freeway detour using State Routes 23 and 118 and Interstate 405.

The overnight closures will enable crews to safely lift and place 82 large concrete beams, called girders, above the freeway lanes. Each girder weighs between 126 tons and 140 tons. Each girder reaches from the center median to the shoulder of the freeway. The girder operation is expected to be completed in approximately four to six weeks. Completion of the entire crossing is expected around the end of 2025 or early 2026. Construction began in 2022.

The starting date and the schedule each night are subject to change due to weather and operational reasons. Some lanes may be closed starting as early as 7 pm. Caltrans urges motorists to watch for announcements soon about the starting date and the direction of the closure each night.

Caltrans will provide additional information soon for the public, including updates on the social-media platform X, formerly Twitter, at @CaltransDist7. Those without an X/Twitter account can view all the information at twitter.com/CaltransDist7. Information also is available at the Caltrans website and at 101wildlifecrossing.org. The public can sign up for free weekly email updates about the wildlife crossing's construction and closures by sending an email to michael.comeaux@dot.ca.gov or D7inquiries@dot.ca.gov or calling (213) 897-9372.

Inspirational Women of the Valley Named

In one of the Valley's most important awards programs recognizing women leaders of the San Fernando Valley, the United Chambers of Commerce's (UCC) board of directors has announced its 2024 10th Annual Inspirational Women honorees.

The United Chambers Inspirational Women Awards annually recognize women of outstanding achievement who have inspired others with their individual stories and accomplishments

Established by the United Chambers and UCC member Vahid Khorsand in 2015, the committee seeks nominees who have not always been in the spotlight or who have not been previously acknowledged - women who could be described as low profile or behind the scenes workers who have overcome unique challenges in finding ways to serve their communities.

The Inspirational Women awards recognize women not only for their successes but for how they have inspired others, served as mentors and, through their contributions, made the San Fernando Valley a better place. Honorees are selected from a wide array of industries including, but not limited to, business, social services, health care and medicine, education, community advocacy, arts, government and non-profit.

The 2024 nominees will be honored at a luncheon May 9 at the Hilton Woodland Hills. For tickets visit unitedchambers.org.

Rantz & Ravez from Dennis P. Zine

They fought the system and WON!

In January a parking citation was issued to the vehicle owned by a RantZ and RaveZ reader. The reader informed me of the situation and ultimate outcome. The situation began when they parked their vehicle in a residential neighborhood off Ventura Blvd to attend a meeting at a local restaurant. It was a little after 7 pm on January 24 when they parked. The parking restriction sign showed two hour parking from 8 am to 6 pm. Another sign restricted parking from 8 am to 10 am on Monday for street sweeping. Those were the only VISIBLE parking restrictions posted along the street. Following the dinner meeting, the person returned to their vehicle and noticed a parking citation on the windshield. The citation was for section 80.58L (Preferential Parking Violation) with a $68 fine.

The alleged violator searched for signs noting a "Preferential Parking" area and did not find any in the vicinity where they parked. Scanning the street, there were a few posted a distance up the street on the other side of the street from where they parked.

Believing that the signs were not properly posted, the violator decided to appeal the citation. First there was the trip to the Administrative Parking office on Van Nuys Blvd where the written appeal was submitted. The matter was taken under consideration and they received notice that the violation would stand. They were informed they could request an in-person administrative appeal if they did not agree with the findings. Since the alleged violator is retired and has time to challenge the system, they requested the Administrative Appeal. They were informed that the Administrative Appeal would be conducted in Van Nuys on March 13.

On March 13 the violator appeared at the Administrative Appeal Office on Sepulveda Blvd. Upon entering the Appeal Office, the security guard directed the violator to empty all their pockets and submit to a search. The guard used a device to check for any weapons or metal in the pockets of the violator.

Following a short wait, the violator was called into a small room to meet with the hearing officer. The officer informed the violator that the interview would be video recorded and that they would be notified of the decision by mail following the hearing.

The hearing officer was very polite and listened to the explanation and shown photos of the location where the citation was issued. The violator left.

A few days following the hearing, the violator received the results of the Administrative Hearing in the mail. The letter read: "The respondent's testimony and evidence regarding the absence of a visible sign on the block, involved with this citation were credible, persuasive, and convincing. I therefore find respondent not liable!"

So, in this case, the innocent motorist received a bogus parking citation and spent a considerable amount of time proving their innocence. If you received such a citation, would you have spent the time for a $68 citation? When the system is wrong, we should fight it and not roll over and accept it. That is the American way.

Digital Dangers and Protecting Your Business

By Hormazd Dalal

Progress never stops. As the world becomes increasingly digital with the rise of AI and machine learning, it is clear we live in an era where technology governs every aspect of our daily lives. Businesses from all industries need to become more vigilant as threats to their company's stability and security are more prevalent than ever. Today, business owners must contend with safeguarding their businesses against perilous technological challenges such as rising cybercrime, ransomware attacks, and data breaches.

Rising Cybercrime: A Persistent Danger

The United States has seen a relentless surge in cybercrime incidents, including data breaches, ransomware attacks, and phishing schemes. These tactics pose significant risks to businesses across all sectors. In a recent article in USA Today, an FBI report predicted the cost of cybercrime would reach a massive $9.5 trillion in 2024. Phishing was the most reported type of incident, but investment fraud was the costliest, resulting in $3.3 billion in losses.

As a business owner, it's imperative to remain vigilant and proactive. Cyberattacks result not only in immediate financial losses but also in reputational damage and a loss of customer trust.

Ransomware Attacks: An Imminent Threat

Ransomware attacks have grown more frequent and sophisticated, targeting businesses, law firms, hospitals, and local governments. These attacks can paralyze your operations and force you into a financial and emotional crisis as cybercriminals hold your data hostage for exorbitant ransoms.

Data breaches: Safeguarding Your Most Valuable Ssset

In 2020, the U.S. experienced a record high in data breaches, with billions of sensitive records exposed. The healthcare, finance, and government sectors were prime targets. Data breaches not only result in financial losses but can also cripple an organization's credibility and trustworthiness.

Your business's data is a priceless asset that must be protected at all costs. Cyber threats loom large over businesses, safeguarding your data takes priority and data security is the key to success. There are many ways to protect your business and boost your cyber security.

Train your employees: Cyber-Vigilant Dmployees are Your Best Protection Against Information Security Threats.

Every employee should know proper email safety and usage, how to treat business information at the office and at home, and what to do if a cybersecurity breach occurs. Use regular communication and ongoing training to reinforce your cybersecurity policies.

Protect your endpoints: Firewalls Can Prevent and Deter Hackers and Stop Cmployees from Browsing Restricted Websites.

Install and update firewall systems on every company issued employee device: computer, smartphone, and networked device.

Hire a trusted IT solutions provider: Preventing, monitoring, and resolving data breaches is a necessary part of business operations. The peace of mind that comes with the knowledge that your business is protected by an expert in the field is invaluable. Having the right people keeping your business safe from ever-evolving cyber threats is the best solution.

Today's digital landscape requires protection from ongoing cyber threats. It is no longer an option but a necessity. Cyber security is the key to success. For your business to thrive, protecting your data is of the utmost importance.

Hormazd Dalal is the Chief Executive Officer of Castellan, Inc, a trusted managed IT solutions provider, located in Calabasas, CA. He can be reached with questions about this article at 818-789-0088 or via email at hormazd@castellan.net. You can also visit www.castellan.net for more information.

How Do You Steal $30 Million?

Heads are shaking over the Sunday night's heist in Sylmar where thieves made off with $30 million in cash. Burglars were able to enter the building - and the safe where the money was stored. They broke through the roof of the Gardaworld building on Roxford Street. It is unclear how they avoided the alarm and breached the secure building. It is also unclear why there was no guard protecting the business, owned by a Canada-based security company.

Speculation is that it was an inside job, as few people would have know the large sum kept in the safe.

This could prove to be the largest cash heist in L.A. history.

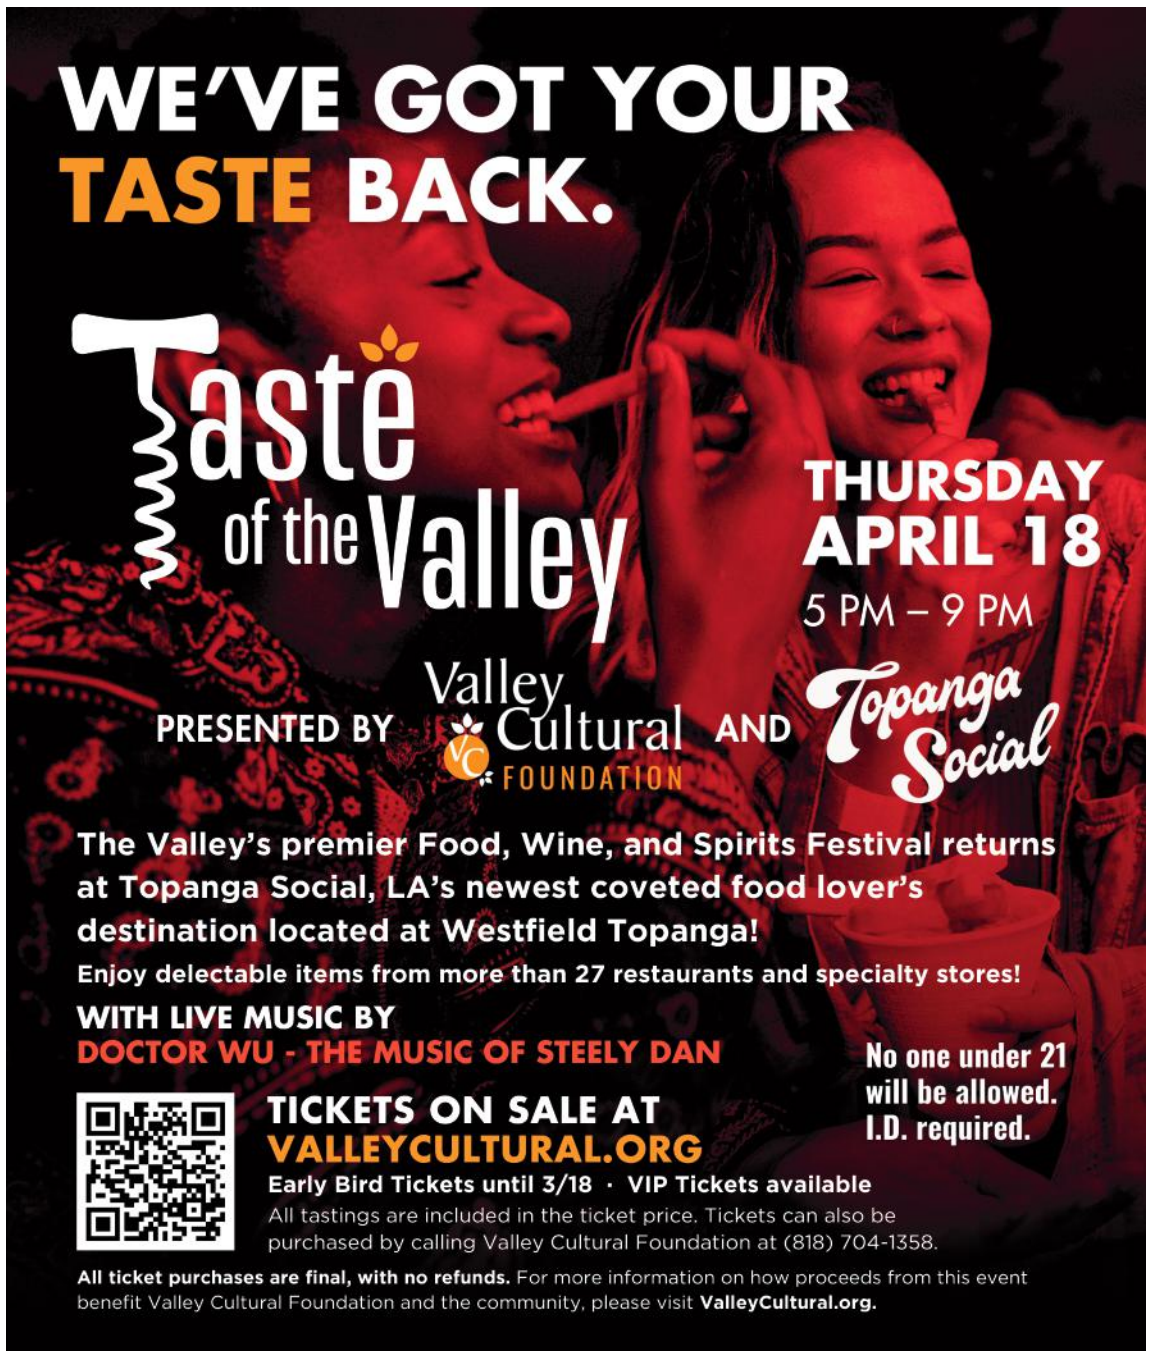
VALLEY ENTERTAINMENT



Jewish Symphony to Celebrate 30 Years Under Direction of Valley Resident Dr. Noreen Green

The Los Angeles Jewish Symphony (LAJS) will celebrate 30 years presenting music of the Jewish experience on Sunday, April 14, at 7:30 pm with its 30th Anniversary Celebration, a retro-spective concert at Wilshire Boulevard Temple under the direction of Dr. Noreen Green, valley resident, visionary and Founding Artistic Director and Conductor of LAJS.

Green is a trailblazing, inspirational conductor, educator and lecturer known worldwide for her knowledge and skill in presenting music with Jewish themes. Green exudes a spirit of joy and harmony – bringing people together through the universal language of music through a Jewish lens.

In November 2022, as a panelist at the United Nations in New York City, Dr. Green spoke on Music and the Holocaust: History, Memory and Justice. In January 2023 and 2024, she was a presenter at the International Conductors Guild Conferences on Jewish music topics (2023 in Valencia, Spain; 2024 in New York). In June of 2023, Dr. Green served as artist-in-residence, dramaturge, musical director and pianist for a three-week run of the play "Stories from the Violins of Hope" in Sydney, Australia, where she was also honored by a member of the Parliament of New South Wales for her participation in Jewish Arts' "Melodies of Memories" at North Shore Temple.

Green said "Music is what makes us human. Everyone resonates with it. As there are Jews all over the world, music of the Jewish experience is the experience of being human. And we perform live: when you hear from a human you are sharing space with -- whether it's prayer, dance, or performance -- it is a shared experience, a community experience – and much different than watching it on a screen. A live performance is beautiful -- and temporal; it makes its impression and then it's gone. You can't rewind to change it."

The evening will include featured performances by LAJS Founding Concertmaster Mark Kashper and several longtime friends of the LAJS: Cantor Lisa Peicott, Cantor Ilan Davidson, and young artist Eden Kontesz.

The evening's featured work "Symphony of the Holocaust" was composed by Holocaust survivor Shony Alex Braun (1930-2002), who worked closely with Maestra Green during the later years of his life. Braun crafted the work from the melodies he composed in his head during his time in the World War II concentration camps.

The symphony is the subject of the recent and well-reviewed documentary of the same name and features the LAJS, conducted by Maestra Green, with Founding Concertmaster Mark Kashper as violin soloist; Kashper will reprise his featured performance for the 30th Anniversary Celebration. "Symphony of the Holocaust" documentary can be screened at watch.sunnstream.com/checkout/subscribe/purchase]

Opening the concert will be Andrea Clearfield's "Prayer" to acknowledge the pain of all who are suffering.

The program will also include works by Marc Lavry, Lucas Richman, Kurt Weill, and more, as well as a tribute to the LAJS's longstanding commitment to music education and nurturing young Jewish talent. Thirteen-year-old phenom Eden Kontesz, daughter of Grammy Award-winning composer Sharon Farber, will perform Tzivka Pik's "Light a Candle." Kontesz first appeared with the LAJS at the age of six, performing as part of the Symphony's annual education program A Patchwork of Cultures: Exploring the Sephardic-Latino Connection.

The concert begins at 7:30 pm, with a dessert reception to follow at 9 pm.

Individual tickets start at $36 for general admission; sponsor and tribute book ad packages are also available. Program subject to change.

The Wilshire Boulevard Temple Resnick Family Campus is located at 11960 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles. For more sponsorship information and to purchase tickets, visit www.lajs.org/30th-anniversary or call (818) 646-2844.

Ghostbusters: Frozen Empire Isn't Breaking Any Molds, But Has Fun With the Franchise

By Katie Sterling

There are theme songs that nestle themselves into our brains and never leave. In this case, you need only to bump into Valley local Ray Parker Jr. for certain opening chords to subconsciously start playing in your head. It's an answer to a question that we all know and thanks to the fifth film recently released in the franchise, we can all once again shout the response to "Who ya gonna call…?"

Ghostbusters has followed suit with what many iconic films (i.e Jurassic Park, Scream) have done by producing set "chapters" in the narrative's universe to not only maintain dedicated fans, but recruit new ones as well. The Jurassic Park trio of films was followed by the Jurassic World trio of films, while Scream introduced the idea of a "requel," a sort of remake/sequel to a series' original film. All of these films utilize similar narratives while incorporating a fresh batch of actors and pepper in enough nods to the original franchise to appease dedicated fans in acknowledging that we wouldn't be here now, if it weren't for what came before.

Ghostbusters: Frozen Empire is no different in that audiences are now getting the second film of what could be considered the second "chapter" of the Ghostbusters franchise. (We're going to ignore Ghostbusters 2016 for now, given that the female forward remake seems to have been a one and done offset).

In the latest iteration, the Spengler family have moved to New York City after their antics in Ghostbusters: Afterlife and the realization that their estranged grandfather was a key player in the original Ghostbuster group. (While not completely necessary, I highly recommend watching Afterlife before Frozen Empire).

Having now adopted the responsibilities that this knowledge imparts, the family has moved back into the infamous firehouse and have become well-known city-wide for their new business venture. Yet, when the discovery of an ancient artifact that seems immune to all ghostbusting tactics unleashes an evil force throughout the city, this rag tag team is faced with their biggest task yet.

Thanks to another tactic utilized by these franchises, familiar faces join new ones and the combined knowledge of past and present are used to well, save the world. While diehard fans will no doubt be gleeful to see some original Ghostbusters make their return, the cast of this newest chapter is strong enough to hold their own and frankly, don't quite need any of their spotlight stolen. The Spegler family is, dare I say, perfectly cast and the foils between each character only strengthen the dynamic as a whole. As for the supporting characters, for which there are far more in this sequel, Patton Oswalt's quirky demeanor fits seamlessly into the narrative and Kumail Nanjiani is the ideal comic relief, truly stealing every scene he is in.

Ghostbusters is a film intended to be FUN and really, what idiot is going to argue about a film that incorporates a junk food-eating blob and a myriad of mini marshmallow men?!

Recent reviews have not been overall kind to this film, but when you've gotten to the point of producing the fifth or sixth iteration of a franchise, you've got to stop getting your protons in a twist!

Ghostbusters is a film intended to be FUN and really, what idiot is going to argue about a film that incorporates a junk food-eating blob and a myriad of mini marshmallow men?!

Ghostbusters: Frozen Empire, and fellow franchises, are designed to entertain dedicated audiences who, despite some bumpy spots along the road, are still showing up for their favorite characters and beloved universes. At the end of the day, they're not there to break molds, they're there to bust ghosts!

Ghostbusters: Frozen Empire is now playing in theatres.

UCLA Buys West Hills Hospital; Renamed UCLA West Valley Medical Center

As Valley News Group was the first to report in our January 25 issue, UCLA Health has acquired West Hills Hospital and Medical Center and related assets from HCA Healthcare.

The transaction, which was finalized on March 28, will help address hospital inpatient capacity needs, allowing UCLA Health to provide world-class care to more patients across the region. The hospital has been renamed UCLA West Valley Medical Center.

"UCLA Health is focused on enhancing timely and equitable access to health care throughout greater Los Angeles, and this acquisition is an important milestone in our ongoing efforts," said Johnese Spisso, president of UCLA Health and CEO of the UCLA Hospital System. "We are pleased to welcome West Hills staff members as UCLA Health employees as we work together to serve the community. I thank HCA Healthcare leaders for their efforts in completing this transaction with us."

UCLA Health's immediate priority during the ownership transition is ensuring continuity of high-quality care for patients and a smooth transition as the hospital's operations are integrated with UCLA Health.

UCLA Health has retained the vast majority of health care professionals and support staff previously employed by HCA Healthcare at West Hills.

The acquisition includes the 260-bed community hospital with seven operating rooms and a free-standing ambulatory surgery center, about 21 miles northwest of UCLA's main campus in Westwood. The hospital sits on a 14-acre site, providing future opportunities to expand care. UCLA Health operates primary and specialty care clinics in and near the San Fernando Valley and across Southern California and the Central Coast.

UCLA Health will develop a comprehensive, long-term plan to upgrade the UCLA West Valley Medical Center property and optimize use of the additional capacity. The types of medical services offered at the medical center will remain unchanged while the strategic plan for expanded access is prepared.

Plan G is the Medicare supplement plan we are recommending for our new and existing clients. Since January 1, 2020, Plan G has been the richest plan that those new to Medicare can enroll in. Because of this, we are systematically moving all of our clients to Plan G.

Carriers are competing for this plan. The ONLY difference between Plan F and Plan G is that Plan G has a once-a-year deductible. In 2024, that deductible is $240. All other Medicare benefits are identical, and the network of providers is identical.

We are regularly saving people $1000 or more (net after the deductible) per year. And, we expect that savings to widen.

It's Time to Shop!

The California "birthday rule" guarantees you the right to change your Medicare supplement plan to any other carriers' same or lesser plan within 60 days of your birthday. You can change without answering health history questions.

The 5-Day School and Work Week may be changed to a 4-Day Week for Both School and Work.

The Lakeland Board of Trustees in Rathdrum, Idaho is currently conducting a survey to determine if a four-day school week is the future for education in Idaho. Many school districts in Idaho are scheduled to move to a four-day school week next year. It is also interesting to note that California lawmakers have considered legislation that would allow workers to propose alternate 40-hour weeks, such as four 10-hour days, more than a dozen times since 2005. Like they sometimes say, things are changing around here.

L.A. County Board of Supervisors Barger and Horvath visit the San Fernando Valley.

It was a refreshing and positive change to see two members of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors meet with the United Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley members at a packed luncheon at the remodeled Woodland Hills Country Club in March. The leadership of both Barger and Horvath impressed the members of the United Chambers. The cooperation and working together attitude for the benefit of the tax payers was the highlight of the impressive luncheon.

Barger, who was re-elected for four more years, expressed her appreciation to the voters for her victory and solid and cooperative relationship with her colleague Horvath who is now the Chair of the Board of Supervisors. Of note Horvath has visited the San Fernando Valley more times in her short term as a Supervisor than Sheila Kuehl did in the many years she served on the Board of Supervisors. It is good to know that we have caring and hardworking people representing the businesses and residents of the San Fernando Valley.

The Federal government is looking for your tax return money so they can pay some bills and borrow more of our hard-earned money for who knows what!

The national debt in America is last reported to be in the area of 31,450,337,795,985,239,284 and growing larger every day! With our elected officials in Washington, not getting along and spending more and more money, we are all paying for it. The cost of living is continuing to increase with gas at the $5 a gallon range along with other products we rely on. Food, home, family and all the rest. Most people are struggling to make ends meet. The credit card debt is increasing daily and interest rates are not going down. There is only so much a person can take. I hope that whomever is elected to local and national office in November, our economy and national debt find correction for all our benefit.

This edition of RantZ and RaveZ will publish prior to April 6. I invite everyone to come out and meet Jay Leno and enjoy the day at Warner Park in Woodland Hills (5800 Topanga Canyon Blvd.) for the "Grateful Hearts Fundraiser" for the LAPD and LAFD. There will be food, entertainment, LAPD and LAFD displays along with a car show, bands and lots of fun for everyone. I hope to see you there.

Tips to Help Safely View the Upcoming Solar Eclipse

For people in the San Fernando Valley and hundreds of millions more nationwide, the upcoming solar eclipse offers a great opportunity to view a rare celestial event.

A solar eclipse occurs when the moon blocks any part of the sun. On April 8, virtually everyone across the country will have the chance (weather permitting) to see at least a partial solar eclipse, while over 31 million people in a narrow path from Texas to Maine will have the opportunity to witness a total solar eclipse. In the San Fernando Valley, the eclipse coverage will reach a maximum of 48.9% at approximately 11:12:20 am PDT.

While the solar eclipse is a fun and educational opportunity for everyone, there are precautions you should take to help maintain your eye health while safely viewing this spectacle. Looking at a solar eclipse without proper protection may cause serious eye damage, including blurry vision that can last months, or even permanent problems such as "eclipse blindness."

To help avoid that, here are five tips from prevent blindness to help safely view the solar eclipse:

Get protected. It is unsafe to look directly at the sun at any time and during a partial or total solar eclipse, other than if you are in the path of totality during the brief total phase.

Proper eclipse viewing glasses, which are heavily tinted – much more so than regular sunglasses – can enable you to see the moon track across the orb of the sun until it creates a total eclipse, revealing the sun's corona.

Avoid fakes. Use certified solar eclipse glasses, specifically ones that have been reviewed by the International Organization for Standardization, and look out for fake viewers that may be sold. e. And make sure to read and follow any instructions packaged with or printed on the glasses.

Don't add other devices. Even while wearing approved solar eclipse glasses, it's important not to look at the sun through a camera, telescope, binoculars, or any other optical device. Doing so may concentrate the solar rays and damage the filter, enter your eyes, and potentially cause serious injury.

Use caution during the moment of totality. If you are planning to watch the eclipse from along the 13-state path of totality, eclipse glasses should be worn during the entirety of the partial eclipse phase and may only be removed once the moon completely blocks the sun. Once the sun reappears, glasses should be replaced.

Consider a comprehensive eye exam. If you or a loved one experience eye discomfort or vision problems following the solar eclipse, visit a local eye care professional for a comprehensive exam.

Importantly, comprehensive eye exams may also identify vision problems while helping with the potential detection of other health issues, including diabetes, heart disease and some types of cancer.

The upcoming solar eclipse can be a fun and educational opportunity, provided you take the necessary precautions to protect your eye health.

Nighttrek Report: What to See in the April Sky

By Neill Simmons

The highlight of April is the total eclipse of the sun on Monday, April 8. Make sure you have the ISO certified eclipse glasses to view this event.

On that Monday morning at 10:06 am, the Moon will travel in front of the sun. The sun will be 50% covered at 11:22 am. After a few minutes the Moon will begin to recede and be completely gone from the sun at 12:22 p.m. In Southern California, this will be a partial eclipse.

The total eclipse starts its day in Mazatlan, Mexico and then travels up through Texas, Arkansas, across the states all the way to Pennsylvania and then to Montreal, Canada. The perfect path of totality is 115 miles wide. At the center line, the total eclipse time will be over four minutes in length.

One of the best places to see the eclipse in our area is at Woodland Hills Camera and Telescopes store at Topanga and Ventura. Farah Payan, the owner of the store, will set up a fabulous "Solar Telescope." It will be monitored by two knowledgeable astronomy specialists, Dallas and Simon, who will answer all of your questions and facilitate the eclipse viewing. This is a FREE event!

FUN FACT: When a solar eclipse happens, a lunar eclipse will happen two weeks before or two weeks after. We had our lunar eclipse on March 24.

On April 10 the bright planet Jupiter and the beautiful crescent Moon will be in the west just after sunset.

Comets frequently pass by Earth but many are too dim to spot. April 20, 21, and 22, a passing comet may be bright enough to see early in the evening in the west.

The Lyrid Meteor Shower is on the night of April 22. You might see an occasional meteor, but the Moon will be very bright so they will be hard to see.

The Full Moon of April has many names all over the world. NIGHTTREK likes the name "Egg Moon." This title is often used in April due to the beginning of the nesting season for birds and waterfowl.

The Big Dipper is always easy to see in the north. However, in April, Ursa Major is awesome as its bowl is upright. Take note that in July, the bowl will be low to the horizon.

April is a great time to spot the Zodiac constellation "Leo the Lion." Look for a giant backward question mark in the south. It is easy to see. This sickle shape grabs our eyes, and at the bottom is a super bright star named Regulus. Leo is mentioned in many books in ancient Greece.

The highlight of April is the total eclipse of the sun on Monday, April 8.

Vandenberg SFB and Space X have been launching many rockets this year. In April, eleven rocket launches are planned to put Starlink satellites in orbit. Frequently, these launches are spectacular to witness, as the one launched on March 18, which lit up the sky. Space X's Starlink satellites are meant to carry large amounts of information to any point on Earth, even over the oceans and in extremely remote places.

Griffith Observatory is having a Star Party on Saturday the 13th from dusk to 10:00 pm. This is free event!

When not stargazing, Neill Simmons is a Wealth Advisor with LPL Financial in Woodland Hills. If you have any questions, he may be reached at (818) 936-2626 or neill.simmons@lpl.com.

E-Waste Cleanup Saturday in Calabasas

New "Ensemble" Apartments Opening August for CSUN Students

A new apartment complex catering to students at CSUN is on track to open for residents in August 2024, according to UrbanizeLA.

The project, built by West Los Angeles-based Symphony Development, is located on a 1.5-acre site at 9530-9546 N. Reseda Boulevard, where it replaced a post office and an adjoining parking lot.

The new four-story building will feature 118 studio, one-, two- and four-bedroom apartments above roughly 5,700 square feet of ground-floor commercial space and basement parking for more than 200 vehicles.

According to the leasing website, prices for shared accommodations start at $995 per month, while private rooms begin at $2,250 per month.

The apartment complex, named Ensemble, is a contemporary low-rise structure featuring a central courtyard with a swimming pool, a paseo, a rooftop deck, and fitness rooms.m For more information visit ensemblenorthridge.com.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program.
