Camouflaged Camera Found in Calabasas

The Sheriff's Department reported that a resident in Calabasas found a camouflaged camera hidden in a flower bed with the lens facing their residence. According to LAPD and the Sheriff's Dept., these cameras are used by burglars that want to monitor comings and goings of residents to know when to break in. There are reported "burglary tourists" working L.A. County. Foreign nationals who are part of international burglary rings enter the U.S. and are organized into theft groups. A resident in a gated community in Calabasas who wished not to be identified told Valley News Group that the area is "being hit all the time. They come up from the golf course to enter the community." LAPD is urging all county residents to check their perimeters for any unusual "trash" or concealed equipment.

Fourth and Ten!

Construction is moving the Rams' training field closer to completion at the old Anthem property in Warner Center.

The northeast parking lot was completely torn out, and wooden stanchions have been put in place as they grade and prepare to install a new field.

Modular buildings for offices, locker rooms and training facilities will soon be brought on to the site.

A Rams' official has stated the goal is to have the field ready for practice this August. The team will move from their current practice location at Cal Lutheran in Thousand Oaks.

Not the Carpool Lane!

The source of all the honking on the 101 has been revealed!

This picture was posted by Jennifer DeVoe Van Dusen on Facebook... taken on the Ventura Freeway last Saturday.

A family of Canadian geese had taken a stroll and ended up in the northbound lane of the 101. A helpful pickup driver (out of the photo) had stopped with flashers on and arms waving to allow the geese to safely exit.

Canadian geese fly down south of California every winter and can be seen on the fields at Pierce College and other large grassy fields during their winter migration.

People in the News

Calabasas Mayor Alicia Weintraub, right, will be honored by Chabad of Calabasas at their gala fundraiser on June 10.

Chabad Rabbi Eli Friedman said that they are honoring Weintraub because she is not just a good public servant, but has been wonderful and sincere with her support of Israel, especially the rally she and Councilman David Shapiro organized last October after the Hamas attack.

"She did the right thing at the right time," said Friedman. "With this gala we want to wake up the community for positive energy and recognizing the importance of unity, people getting along and working together in a world that is suffering with infighting."

The gala at the Canyon Club will feature dinner and a concert by Jewish performer and singer Benny Friedman, an internationally popular Jewish-Chassidic recording artist. From his humble beginnings as Chazan and Hebrew school instructor at Chabad of Calabasas, he has risen to become one of the most sought-after performers in the Jewish world. Also performing will be Mordechay Shenvald, an Israeli tank commander and violinist also known as "The Fiddler on a Tank."

Chabad of Calabasas is a warm and vibrant local Jewish center, beloved to a diverse community, with multiple cultural and national backgrounds and with greatly varying levels of Jewish knowledge and religious observance. Chabad's focus is on Jewish unity, joyous inclusion and the sacred belief in the power of each individual Mitzvah to change the world for good. For more information and tickets visit chabadofcalabasas.com.

Mark Sterling, right, a valley community leader, owner of World's Greatest Promotional Stuff in Tarzana and Membership Fun Coordinator at Braemar Country Club, is entertaining residents in a new role.

Sterling plays the hatmaker in Valley Opera & Performing Arts production of the classic Fiddler on the Roof.

The play will take the stage at the Sally Field Performing Arts Center, 17000 Haynes Street in Lake Balboa on June 1, 2, 8 and 9.

Directed by VOPA's co-founder and resident stage director, Dylan F. Thomas, this rendition of *Fiddler on the Roo*f promises to dazzle audiences with talent worthy of New York's Broadway stages.

VOPA's production will be performed with full orchestra, conducted by the esteemed maestra, Dr. Noreen Green, Founding Artistic Director of the Los Angeles Jewish Symphony. Green's expertise promises to elevate the musical experience, enriching the beloved melodies that have enchanted audiences for generations.

A talented ensemble of performers steps into these iconic roles, with Dylan F. Thomas serving double duty as both stage director and in the role of the conflicted milkman, Tevye. Alongside him, Andrea Bear brings depth and warmth to the character of Golde, while Eden Kontesz embodies the spirit of Hodel with grace and conviction.

Tickets are available for purchase online at VOPArts.org or by calling (747) 463-3358.

Why I Believe All Calabasas Jews Should Join Chabad's Gala

From Rabbi Eli Friedman

I love Chabad for many reasons, and if you let me buy you a cup of coffee, I'll tell you all of them.

For now, though, let me unburden myself and explain why all Calabasas Jews – and anyone looking for a good time and good music - should join the Chabad of Calabasas Gala on June 10 at The Canyon.

A couple of days ago, in a discussion concerning Israel, I heard a Jewish woman say, "Israel needs wars because it's the only time we are united." I am here today to declare, "Not true!" Sure, we are united whenever we are under attack, but also - whenever we are at Chabad.

Unity, positivity, mutual respect - Chabad holds these sacred. The belief that uniting the people is the most important task of Jewish leadership lies at the core of Chabad's philosophy.

All our blessings have risen out of unity and all our agonies have emerged from disunity. No group can save itself without saving everyone. To defeat evil, it is not enough to be good; we need to work together. Society has learned that lesson the hard way. But Chabad has always preached that. We are brothers and sisters, so though we disagree, we do so with arms around each other's shoulders, not hands around each other's throats.

We are brothers and sisters, so though we disagree, we do so with arms around each other's shoulders, not hands around each other's throats.

Whether you are a card-carrying Chabadnik or not, if you dream of society coming back from politics and elitism and returning to being the big family it is, invest in Chabad. We are making it happen.

Unity will preserve us. Chabad will preserve unity. And Jews should preserve Chabad, happily and wholeheartedly. It is truly everyone's cause.

Please, my friends: Let's bring the family back together, and let's start in Calabasas.

Rabbi Eli Friedman and his wife Shaina founded Chabad of Calabasas in 2003.

The Chabad of Calabasas Gala Concert and Banquet honoring Calabasas Mayor Alicia Weintraub is Monday, June 10, 6 pm, at The Canyon. RSVP at www.Gala21.com

Letter to the Editor:

Remembering Those Who Gave "Their Last Measure of Full Devotion"

America's Memorial Day (which just passed) is to remember those who "gave their last full measure of devotion" to our country and our cause. Brave men and women fought and died from Bunker Hill to New Orleans to Buena Vista to Shiloh and Cold Harbor to Chateau-Thierry to Cape Esperance and Kasserine Pass to Taejon to Khe Sanh to 73 Easting to Fallujah and Marja and Helmand.

Some were drafted, some volunteered. None returned to enjoy the pleasures of what we call our "American way of life," including the gifts of culture, food and habits given to America by waves of immigrants who also gave their sons in battle.

America in the 21st century is not only the land between the oceans - Canada and Mexico fit the bill and so does Costa Rica. America, mostly for better and sometimes not, is defined at least as much by what it does as where it is. We have been to war. But we acquired no territory in World War I, World War II or the Gulf War, and none in Iraq or Afghanistan or Syria. We stay in Sinai, South Korea and - until recently - Niger for them, not for us. Our commitment to NATO protected the free part of Europe from the Soviet Union. We spent a fortune to shield the countries we had just rescued so they could prosper.

In Vietnam, we tried - and failed - to stem the flow of communism, not to own Vietnam but in hopes that it would evolve as the other "Asian Tigers" did. And, oddly, economically it has. But it is still communist with all that implies. The wars in Iraq and Afghanistan were to protect American interests, but no one can doubt that Afghan women, Kurds and Yazidis benefitted from our presence and suffered when we left.

Yes, we could have saved the money and the lives and still have been a country between the two oceans. But not the same country.

American soldiers, from the Revolution to the present, are protectors not only of our personal and national freedom but also of the American belief that more free countries make the world safer. These countries are important to us precisely because we don't own them but rather associate with them.

Veterans Day in November is to thank living soldiers for their service. But as we lose World War II, Korean War and now Vietnam War veterans at an ever-increasing pace, we are uncomfortably aware that too many American soldiers die without knowing that we appreciate them and what they have done to provide the space for us to eat, drink and laugh; to fly our flags; to go to a furniture sale or to the beach on the first long, lovely weekend of the summer.

While we remember those already gone on this Memorial Day, please also ensure that the next soldier you see knows how you feel - while you can and while he or she can appreciate it.

Brian Goldenfeld, Oak Park

Baby Reindeer is a Dark Insight into Psychological Trauma

By Katie Sterling

It's a sardonic comment that most of us have made at one point in our life: "No good deed goes unpunished."

While typically said in jest, when an act of kindness backfires on us, the end result of said good deed going wrong is fairly inconsequential. But what if one small act of kindness changed the trajectory of your life?

For Richard Gadd, the lead of Netflix's most-talked-about new show Baby Reindeer, a free cup of tea offered to a stranger led to a stalker and a psychological downward spiral.

Gadd plays Donny, a bartender and want-to-be comic, who offers Martha (Jessica Gunning) a cup of tea on the house to lift her very-obvious depressed spirits. This small act explodes into a daily routine of Martha frequenting the bar to endlessly chat about her life as a lawyer, happenings at the bar and seemingly her favorite topic: Donny himself. After discovering Donny's phone number, Martha's communication turns digital and Donny is now hounded by Martha both on and off shift. When it becomes fairly obvious that the communication is skewing one-sided, Martha's presence quickly turns from quirky to ominous.

As Martha becomes more and more unhinged, the audience finds themselves screaming at Donny to take control of the situation and get the police involved. Rather, Donny's actions only seem to exacerbate the problem and it is slowly revealed that his new stalker is just the tip of the internal iceberg Donny is battling against.

Through a series of flashbacks, we come to find out much of the trauma Donny is dealing with and how it influences the way he handles Martha. It's infuriating to watch, at times incredibly dark, incredibly cringey and frankly, quite uncomfortable. While the series starts off with Martha presenting as the villain, it's only as you get more into the episodes that you realize Donny is as much self-sabotaging as he is presenting himself as a victim.

At only seven, roughly 30-minute episodes, Baby Reindeer is a psychological rollercoaster in which you never quite know what disaster lays around the corner. It was a series where you seemingly couldn't quite escape hearing about on social media (Martha probably wouldn't see the irony there). However, it is perhaps one of the darkest shows Netflix has released in recent years and certainly will not be for everyone.

Jessica Gunning is getting tons of praise, as she should, for the incredibly dark and manic portrayal of a woman unhinged. If you do manage the whole series and need a palate cleanser, definitely check out Gunning in the Amazon comedy The Outlaws where she hilariously portrays an officer overseeing a group of individuals mandated to complete community service hours.

At the end of it all, Baby Reindeer is a harrowing story of abuse, manipulation and dependency. What makes this show even more chilling? It's based on an entirely true story that Richard Gadd experienced himself and then wrote this Netflix series on in which he stars. To put your story out there for the world, especially when you certainly don't make yourself look good, is quite the task. After all, you're never quite rooting for anyone in the series but rather, anxiously sitting on the edge of your seat waiting to see how it will all unfold.

While the title might fool you with its cuteness (baby reindeer being Martha's nickname for Donny), the show is an exploration of emotional trauma unraveled much like a horror movie. Baby Reindeer is endlessly complicated and manages to frustrate, shock and astonish due to its layered nature. While endlessly talked about in the media, one could argue that Baby Reindeer is as much as therapy project for Gadd as it is an "entertainment" piece. It's a complicated situation in that Gadd so clearly struggled to become successful in the comedy world, but thanks to the horrific situations he went through, now has a globally successful television series. Has he learned from his actions or has he used those actions to simply further his career? If you can stomach all of Baby Reindeer, you can be the judge of that.

Hollywood Bowl Jazz Festival Blows Into Town June 15 & 16

Hollywood Bowl Jazz Festival is celebrating 44 years this coming Father's Day weekend, Saturday and Sunday, June 15 and 16. The festival is co-curated by jazz titans Herbie Hancock and Kamasi Washington, frequent collaborators who performed together at the Bowl in August 2017.

Oscar and 14-time Grammy winner Hancock is the LA Phil's Creative Chair for Jazz and has been performing at the Bowl for seven decades and continues to reimagine jazz. Comedian and talk show host Arsenio Hall will host both days of the festival, which starts at 3:30 pm both Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday's lineup includes Jodeci, Christian McBride, Charles Lloyd with Jason Moran, Larry Grenadier, Brian Blade, Mulatu Astatke, Alex Isley, Herbie Hancock Institute of Jazz Performance at UCLA and The LA County High School for the Arts Jazz.

The Canoga Park Memorial Day Parade stands as a poignant reminder of the sacrifices made by countless men and women in the service of our nation. It's a day where the community comes together to honor those who have given their all.

The parade is a vibrant tapestry of patriotism, with color guards from the Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts Troops 464 and 862, and the Army JROTC Color Guard from Monroe High School, showcasing the discipline and respect instilled in the youth. The Fire Academy's presence adds a layer of solemnity and gratitude for the first responders who also risk their lives for our safety.

The musical tributes are equally moving, with trumpet player Angel Cabral from Taft High School Band setting a somber yet hopeful tone. Young Ava Field's rendition of the National Anthem and Melanie Wright's performance of "God Bless America" certainly stirred the hearts of the attendees with their youthfulness and earnestness. Al Mooney's "Proud to be an American" resonated with the crowd, echoing the sentiments of pride and patriotism that filled the air.

The Condor Squadron's flyover was a moving experience and sight, a symbolic representation of the freedom protected by those we remember on this day. The sound of the engines overhead is a powerful tribute to the might and determination of the armed forces.

The comments and presentations by elected officials and dignitaries, including Congressman Brad Sherman, Senator Caroline Menjivar, Assemblyman Jessie Gabriel, Dr. Scott Schmerelson of LAUSD, Councilman Bob Blumenfield, and Grand Marshal MG Gravett, provide a moment for reflection on the importance of leadership and civic duty. Their words, limited in time but vast in significance, offer insights and affirmations of the values that the community and the nation hold dear.

As the parade concluded, the sense of unity and shared respect was palpable. It's a day that transcends individual differences, bringing together people from all walks of life to remember, to honor, and to celebrate the true cost of freedom. The Canoga Park Memorial Day Parade is not just an event; it's a testament to the enduring spirit of America, a nation forever grateful to its heroes.

Prepare Now for Medicare Changes in 2025

By Paul Davis

Brace yourselves for benefit reductions and/or cost increases on Medicare Advantage plans in 2025.

Most people on these plans have experienced steady improvements in these plans over the past 12 years. Lower costs and lower out of pocket maximums have been the trend.

Plans have added dental, vision, hearing, transportation, personal emergency response devices, over the counter allowances and a plethora of other benefits.

For next year it looks like reimbursements for Medicare Advantage plans are going down. These are the payments these plans get from the government for each person enrolled.

Many plans had their Star ratings reduced in 2024 and a commensurate reduction in their reimbursements.

Due to the 2022 Inflation Reduction Act, plans will be forced to absorb much more in drug costs. In 2025 there will be a cap of $2,000 on what each person will have to spend for "Part D" drug costs. This cost will be borne by these plans.

CMS "final rule" may also add more costs to these plans in 2025.

It's possible plans might choose to absorb this cost and not raise costs or reduce benefits, but that seems unlikely.

What should you do?

#1. Take full advantage of all the extra benefits you have in 2024. Don't assume any benefits will still be on the plan in 2025.

#2. Do not call your carrier or agent or provider right now and ask what to do. We won't know anything until July and probably won't have any sort of clarity until October.

#3. Watch for communications from your health plan. In September you should receive your Annual Notice of Change. This document will spell out any changes in your plan.

#4. Watch for changes in the provider network. We had some significant disruption in plans in 2024 due to some provider groups dropping their contract with Medicare Advantage plans.

#5. Get in touch with your primary care doctor and/or medical group and find out what plans they will be contracted with for 2025.

Take full advantage of all the extra benefits you have in 2024. Don't assume any benefits will still be on the plan in 2025. - Paul Davis

#6. Don't immediately think of changing to another plan. Every plan will be under these pressures and we don't know if there will be any "safe havens" to switch to.

#7. Around September it would be prudent to load all your drugs into your mymedicare.gov account or whatever platform your agent uses. This will allow price comparisons based on your drug regimen.

#8. Plans release information October 1, but we find it's best to wait until October 15 for the dust to settle to start shopping and comparing plans.

#9. When shopping for a Medicare Advantage plan you want to:

a. Search for plans that allow you to see the doctors you want to continue to see.

b Make sure your preferred hospital is in the network.

c. Compare drug costs. Look at the "preferred pharmacies" for your plan. Even within their preferred network prices can vary.

d. What is the MOOP? (Maximum Out of Pocket for 2025).

e. What are the copays for services you expect to need?

f. What extra benefits do the plans offer that you will actually make use of.

Is it time for a change of plans?

Perhaps it may be time to consider a Medicare supplement plan. In California: If your Medicare Advantage plan has more than a 15% increase in cost or a 15% reduction in any benefits you will be able to enroll in a Medicare Supplement plan on a guaranteed basis during the Annual Election Period. These plans have a significant monthly premium, but they provide unfettered access to a national network of Medicare contracted providers. On these plans the insurance company has no say so in your course of treatment. I've never seen something that required prior authorization on these plans. On these plans the carriers are told by Medicare how much to pay and to whom. Sorry, they don't come with many bells and whistles. The plan we most commonly recommend is plan G and this year the out of pocket maximum is $240.

UCLA Offers New Strategies to Defeat Depression

By Dr. Andrew Leuchter

UCLA Health offers innovative approaches for treatment of depression that doesn't improve with medications. Transcranial magnetic stimulation (TMS), a noninvasive therapy that "resets" the brain's neural circuits, produces impressive results, and new techniques developed at UCLA Health can relieve symptoms of depression in as quickly as one week.

TMS applies a series of gentle electromagnetic pulses to targeted areas of the brain. This stimulation enhances neuroplasticity - the brain's ability to form new nerve cell connections and escape the negative patterns of mood disorders.

TMS is fundamentally different from medications. In depression, brain circuits can become stuck in recurrent negative feedback loops. By stimulating mood-regulating networks, TMS can essentially "rewire" those circuits and promote recovery from depression.

TMS traditionally involves daily weekday treatments for six to eight weeks, with each session lasting 10-45 minutes. TMS therapy is a covered benefit under most insurance, and approximately two-thirds of patients treated at UCLA Health get substantial relief from depression.

UCLA Health's TMS program has pioneered a "precision" approach, individualizing treatment to identifying the ideal stimulation frequency for each individual using an electroencephalogram (EEG).

Transcranial magnetic stimulation, a noninvasive therapy that "resets" the brain's neural circuits, produces impressive results, and new techniques developed at UCLA Health can relieve symptoms of depression in as quickly as one week.

-Dr. Andrew Leuchter

In an exciting development, UCLA TMS now is offering an accelerated approach treatment in which patients receive five sessions a day for five days. Although this "five-by-five" approach is not yet covered by insurance, initial results indicate that it helps many patients recover from depression in as quickly as one week. UCLA Health offers TMS at clinics in Pasadena, Calabasas and Westwood.

TMS also can relieve symptoms of other conditions including obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD), chronic pain, tinnitus (persistent ringing in the ear) and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).

TMS has an excellent safety record. Side effects, including discomfort at the site of stimulation, mild headaches, and fatigue, usually resolve after the first few treatments.

From Pancakes to Pre-School

Old Ventura Blvd. Denny's Renovation by Hope the Mission

The old Denny's at 20137 Ventura Blvd., (just west of Winnetka) is undergoing a complete transformation.

The iconic diner was bought by L.A. County in 2022 as part of their purchase of the old 818 Hotel at the site.

The property was turned over to Hope the Mission to run as a shelter for families with children.

The 100-room hotel was converted into mini-apartments, and Hope the Mission founder and CEO Ken Craft promised it would offer housing, three meals a day and job training for those sheltering there.

As part of the services offered to those housed at the new shelter now called The Woodlands, the shuttered restaurant adjacent to the site was always planned to be a child care center for mothers who live on the property, so they could transform their lives by getting jobs and moving out of poverty and homelessness.

The restaurant is now being redeveloped into a pre-school.

Craft said, "It may not look like much now, but the former Denny's restaurant across from Taft High School is being converted into a preschool for the moms who live on site. At Hope the Mission, we create holistic solutions to help people overcome poverty and adversity and get back on their feet!"

Council Approves Blumenfield Motions on Safer Drinking Water and Artificial Turf

The Los Angeles City Council has approved Councilmember Bob Blumenfield's motion that instructs the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power (LADWP) to test for the presence of Polyfluoroalkyl/Perfluoroalkyl Substances (PFAS) and other similar contaminants identified by EPA and provide information on testing and actions to ensure safe potable drinking water for the City.

Blumenfield further introduced a motion to transition away from artificial turf/synthetic grass and encourage the transition to California drought-friendly landscaping while exploring a ban on future non-functional / decorative turf. In recent years, many people installed artificial turf / synthetic grass for purposes of water conservation with good intentions and an environmental mindset. However, numerous peer-reviewed studies have concluded that artificial turf / synthetic grass has negative environmental impacts.

Made from petroleum products, artificial turf/synthetic grass has been found to cause environmental issues as it degrades, and it can burn in a wildfire.

Artificial turf is now known to contain harmful substances such PFAS, and other "forever chemicals." In April 2024, the Biden-Harris Administration, through the Environmental Protection Agency, categorized PFAS and other "forever chemicals" as hazardous substances dangerous to human health. The EPA has concluded that exposure to PFAS may lead to reproductive effects, developmental delays, and risks of some cancers. Exposure can occur through inhalation, ingestion, skin contact, and mucous membrane exposure, including microplastic dust kicked up on artificial turf fields.

"We continue to learn about the effects of harmful substances such as polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) and other fine contaminants. There is no denying that these substances are dangerous to our health," said Councilmember Bob Blumenfield. "There is no safe level of these 'forever chemicals' in our drinking water, and the threat of contamination should be met with aggressive but realistic action, like the synthetic turf/artificial grass motion introduced today."

"Sierra Club stands in strong support of this motion from City Councilmember Blumenfield. This is a crucial step for preventing widespread contamination and protecting public health," said Charming Evelyn, Chair of the Sierra Club Angeles Chapter's Water Committee. "Long term, we hope all jurisdictions follow the City's lead and implement robust testing and reporting to ensure a clean, PFAS-free LA, while supporting the use of compostable, healthy natural materials in urban, suburban and landscaped areas, and oppose the use of petroleum based products, such as, poured-in-place, or other plastics in ground covers, weed barriers, sporting surfaces, and in areas that constitute landscapes. Microplastics and PFAS should have no place in our waterways."

Blumenfield's motion instructs City departments to provide recommendations for limitations, or bans on the future installation of synthetic grass / artificial turf, or any "non-functional" or decorative lawns on private property citywide, to reduce health and environmental risks from PFAS and other contaminants.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF WILLIAM EGDAR DAVIS JR.
CASE NO: 24STPB05974

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of WILLIAM E. DAVIS JR.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by WILLIAM E. DAVIS III in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles
The PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that WILLIAM E. DAVIS III be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: June 27, 2024 at 8:30 AM, in Dept 5, of the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles, located at the Stanley Mosk Courthouse, 111 North Hill Street, Los Angeles CA 90012.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a credi-tor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: William E. Davis III, P.O. Box 213, Walnut Creek, CA 94597 (925) 726-6171.
