Car Washes Close Over Fears of Ice Raids

Car washes along Ventura Blvd. throughout the valley have been reported closed at random times during the past week due to fears of ICE raids. A car wash in West Hollywood was the focus of a raid on July 4, and car wash workers say they are on the lookout for white Ford F-150s, the type of vehicle federal law enforcement agents often use, gray Suburbans — or any car with tinted windows. An unsubstantiated rumor from local residents said that ICE agents were also stationed outside the gates of Hidden Hills last week, looking for gardeners, construction and household workers.

Heat Wave to Break Friday

The summer's first heat wave peaked Thursday with warnings from the Southern California Air Quality Management District that the Air Quality Index would reach "Unhealthy" levels in parts of the Southland while air quality that is "Moderate" and "Unhealthy for Sensitive Groups" will be more widespread. The heat wave should break on Friday as the high-pressure system weakens, bringing breezes and possible fog. However, more heat with possible winds is in the forecast for next week.

Child Killed at Summer Camp

A child was tragically killed Wednesday at a summer camp in Calabasas.

The eight-year-old boy died after a tree branch weighing several hundred pounds fell, fatally injuring him and hurting four others at King Gillette Ranch.

Witnesses say they heard a loud crack before the huge branch came down upon the group gathered around a picnic table.

The boy was taken to a local hospital and pronounced dead, while a 10-year-old girl suffered a broken leg and another child and two other adults were also injured.

The children were attending Camp Wildcraft at the ranch, which had moved to the location from Malibu after the Palisades Fire.

One neighbor expressed sadness after the accident, saying that the camp had moved to the ranch after one tragedy, just to suffer another yesterday.

King Gillette Ranch was the scene of the accident.

King Gillette Ranch occupies 588 acres of parkland off Las Virgenes Road and Mulholland Highway. It was originally the summer home of the razor magnate King C. Gillette, designed by renowned architect Wallace Neff. It is now operated by the Mountains Recreation and Conservation Authority, who host educational and entertainment events on the site. Joseph T. Edmiston, executive officer of the Mountains Recreation and Conservation Authority, said, "My heart goes out to the family at this overwhelming and devastating loss."

The incident is under investigation and King Gillette Ranch remained closed to the public Thursday.

COMMUNITY

People in the News

Valley News Group was recently featured in the City of LA Legacy Business Program for their 43 years publishing local papers.

Publisher Kathleen Bercsi Sterling (front row center at right with staff) founded the Warner Center News in 1982 to serve the burgeoning business community of the west valley. The monthly paper focused on the new companies and new development of the area, including a new Marriott hotel, the Trillium Towers and more.

She met her husband Rodger Sterling in 1985, and in 1990 they re-started the Las Virgenes/ Calabasas Enterprise, which Sterling had sold to the Hearst Corporation in 1983 - who quickly bankrupted it, along with several Los Angeles local papers.

Together they purchased and ran the Valley Vantage for the residents of Woodland Hills.

After Sterling's death in 2009, Bercsi-Sterling and their daughter founded the Encino Enterprise in 2019, where Kaitlin Sterling is still the Editor.

The newest addition to Valley News Group's lineup is North Valley News, which covers Chatsworth, Northridge, Porter Ranch and Granada Hills.

Warner Center News, Calabasas Enterprise and Valley Vantage are all published weekly, and Valley Vantage is adjudicated to publish legal notices for all Los Angeles County.

Encino Enterprise and North Valley News are published twice a month, on the first and third Fridays.

All papers adhere to what Sterling calls hyper-local news of the community, focusing on the people, businesses, real estate, entertainment and health issues facing the valley.

"People want to know what is going on right in their own community - down the street and around the corner. We don't cover national news or the president, unless he comes to the valley - which several have. We keep everything local, and have for the last 43 years, and it's working!" said Sterling.

VIEWPOINT

• What do you get when you cross marijuana with a birth control pill? A trip without the kids.

• A local wag says "I exercise regularly. I eat moderate amounts of healthy food. I make sure to get plenty of rest. I see my doctor once a year and my dentist twice a year. I floss every night. I've had chest x-rays, cardio stress tests, EKG's and colonoscopies. I've seen a psychologist once, and she thought I was A-OK. I have a dog and a variety of hobbies to reduce stress. I don't drink and drive. I quit smoking. I don't do drugs. I try not to disparage others. I don't have crazy, reckless sex with strangers.

If Charlie Sheen outlives me, I'm gonna be really pissed off.

• Benefits to being female:

- We can be groupies. Males groupies are stalkers.
- We don't look like a frog in a blender when we're dancing.
- If we marry someone 20 years younger, we're fully aware we look like an idiot.

• Two brothers, six and eight, were discussing whether the words 'hell' and 'ass' were cuss words. They both agreed that they were in the Bible and they didn't believe they were bad words. They decided to try it out on Mom. When the eight-year-old went in the kitchen, his mother asked, "What would you like for breakfast dear, some waffles or bacon and eggs?" He said, "What the hell, give me some Cheerios," and she smacked him across the face. The six-year-old witnessed this and slowly entered the kitchen. His mom in a stern angry voice said, "And what do you want?" He said, "You can bet your ass I'm not asking for Cheerios."

Word on the Street

----------From Kathleen Sterling

There is a lot of beauty in the world, and a lot of ugliness

The beauty comes on nights like Tuesday, when under a full Moon we sat at the Hollywood Bowl and let the music pour over us.

Conductor Shomas Sondergard led the Los Angeles Philharmonic in a stirring national anthem, followed by "Ballade in A minor" from Coleridge Taylor.

The evening had been billed as "Prokofiev's Fifth," but for me the highlight was the incredibly moving "Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini" from Rachmaninoff - truly I think one of the most beautiful pieces of music I know and love. For those that don't know it, the piece was the theme of the 1980 movie Somewhere in Time starring Christopher Reeve and Jane Seymour.

I could have listened to just that all evening.

Pianist Kiril Gerstein played a flawless Rhapsody. The Russian musician was the youngest student at 14 ever to study at Berklee College of Music in Boston. Most recently he was the artist-in-residence with the Bavarian Radio Symphony Orchestra and Spotlight Artist with the London Symphony oOrchestra.

Prokofiev set a different mood, with a somber opening then a fast scherzo, followed by a slow, eloquent movement then a tart, energetic dance to send us home into the night.

The ugliness comes in this newly reported "disaster tourism." Really?

Totally unscrupulous, callous and despicable tour bus operators are loading people up to go down and tour the devastation of the Palisades Fire.

The minute the Palisades opened to the public in June the buses were rolling.

This egregious making a profit off someone else's loss is nothing new, but there was so much devastation, with over 6,000 homes and 12 lives lost, that we can't believe that fellow Angelenos wouldn't have more empathy.

The ugliness in man never fails to surprise me, because I deal with so many wonderful people here in the valley doing good works.

The Los Angeles City Council has voted to ask the Department of Transportation to restrict bus tours in the neighborhoods affected by the fires. Under city law, buses in certain areas can be restricted, like no stopping in the Hollywood Hills due to safety concerns.

Let's hope they tighten the leash on these disgusting tours. And frankly, shame on those signing up for them. You have to be some sort of sick human being to want to trade money for misfortune. Any business that thrives on schadenfreude is certainly not music to my ears.

Restored Oscar-Winning Documentary Kukan Revives at Academy Museum, Rekindling Sino-US Wartime Spirit

The restored version of KUKAN: The Secret of Unconquerable China, an Oscar-winning documentary from 1941, premiered to a packed audience at the Academy Museum of Motion Pictures.

This cinematic gem, once lost to time, reemerged to revisit its historical significance and strengthen the bond between China and the US.

Produced by Chinese American artist Li Ling-Ai and filmed by American war photographer Rey Scott, Kukan captured China's arduous resistance against Japanese aggression from 1939 to 1940.

It notably preserved the only surviving color footage of the devastating Chongqing bombing on August 19, 1940, along with scenes of the Burma Road, guerrilla warfare, and the first appearance of giant pandas on film.

The documentary won an Academy Award for Special Achievement in 1941.

Rediscovered by filmmaker Robin Lung, the restoration - led by the Chongqing International Culture Association with AI-aided techniques - restored the film's authenticity. During the screening themed "Light and Shadow Bear Witness to History," Guan Hong, chairman of the association, donated a copy to the museum, highlighting its influence on American public opinion during WWII, including President Roosevelt's viewing prior to signing the Lend-Lease Act.

Matt Severson, Executive Vice President of the Academy, emphasized the film's message of hope. Chinese Deputy Consul General Zhiqiang Li called it "a cultural bridge," while Asian American Cultural Foundation Chairman James Su noted its testament to life's resilience. Audience reactions were powerful, with Mark Scott, Rey Scott's son, marveling at the restoration's quality. Richard Anderson, an Oscar winner, reflected on Chongqing's transformation from war-torn city to vibrant metropolis.

Kukan stands as both a cinematic milestone and a shared legacy, embodying cross-cultural solidarity and the enduring pursuit of freedom.

Good Times Never Seemed So Good! Neil Diamond Musical Opens at Pantages

Producers Ken Davenport, Bob Gaudio and NETworks Presentations with Broadway in Hollywood are thrilled to announce that A Beautiful Noise: The Neil Diamond Musical will make its Los Angeles premiere at the Hollywood Pantages Theatre for a limited three-week engagement, from July 8 to 27. This beautiful musical memoir takes fans on a journey through the story of the rock icon, Neil Diamond.

Created in collaboration with Neil Diamond himself, A Beautiful Noise is the uplifting true story of how a kid from Brooklyn became a chartbusting, show-stopping American rock icon. With 120 million albums sold, a catalogue of classics like "America," "Forever in Blue Jeans," and "Sweet Caroline," an induction into the Songwriters and Rock and Roll Halls of Fame, a Grammy® Lifetime Achievement Award, and sold-out concerts around the world that made him bigger than Elvis, Neil Diamond's story was made to shine on Broadway-and head out on the road across America.

"Some of my most thrilling nights have been while I was on tour, bringing my music to audiences across the world," said Neil Diamond. "Having A Beautiful Noise go on tour is an honor and I can't wait for audiences across North America to experience this show. I hope they enjoy it as much as I have."

"The biographical drama is a heartwarming celebration of Mr. Diamond's music and inspirational life," said The Washington Times. "Close your eyes and you'd swear that Neil Diamond himself is on stage performing his string of hits," – Forbes. "It also sends you home hungry to hear the albums again and there is no higher tribute," said The Hollywood Reporter.

Like Jersey Boys and Beautiful: The Carole King Musical before it, A Beautiful Noise: The Neil Diamond Musical is an inspiring, exhilarating, energy-filled musical memoir, that tells the untold true story of how America's greatest hitmaker became a star, set to the songs that defined his career.

Producer Ken Davenport said, "Neil is one of the best live entertainers the world has ever seen. In his 50-year career, he's performed for millions of fans around the globe. I couldn't imagine a more perfect way to honor his legacy than having A Beautiful Noise touring North America, visiting the same cities where he gave so many people so much joy. Now, after a successful Broadway run, good times never seemed so good as A Beautiful Noise: The Neil Diamond Musical, is coming to Hollywood making its premiere at the Hollywood Pantages Theatre."

Jurassic World: Rebirth Lacks Originality, But Thrills Nonetheless

By Katie Sterling

It's impossible to top Steven Spielberg's 1993 take on a topic that, dare I say, will never become extinct in the world of cinema. Dinosaurs have long been a source of curiosity for both adults and children, and frankly, as long as they continue to make iterations of the film, people will continue to flock to theaters. (They do move in herds!) This is evident in that fact that Jurassic Park not only has its own two sequels, but now has two new installments of the film franchise: Jurassic World and the latest, Jurassic World: Rebirth. That's seven films in which no one has learned their lesson, everyone ignores all semblance of safety and frankly, these individuals continue to underestimate the intelligence of dinosaurs! David Attenborough would never…

So, have they lost the plot? Totally surrendered control of the narrative after six films? (You never had control, that's the illusion!) Jurassic World: Rebirth, much like the preceding three films, pays slight homage to the original, while clearly relaying that this is a new narrative, with new characters and new end goals. Perhaps echoing the exhaustion of repetitive sequels, the film kicks off with the people of the future no longer in awe of the dinosaurs that they used to flock to see. Rather, dinosaurs have become nuisances since they've integrated into the "real world" following the events of Jurassic World. The biggest and most carnivorous of the species, however, have now seemed to have settled on remote islands near the equator. But you know the drill, folks! There's going to be that one guy that just has to disrupt the dinosaurs for the sake of "something good," also known as making a lot of money.

Cue Martin Krebs (Rupert Friend), a big-pharma guy looking to extract DNA from three distinct dinosaurs in order to create a life-saving drug. One from the sea, one from the land and one from the air. It's the world's most dangerous bingo card, but naturally Krebs won't get his hands dirty and instead has recruited a team of experts. There's paleontologist Dr. Henry Loomis (Jonathan Bailey), covert ops specialist Zora (Scarlett Johansson), and her cohort Duncan (Mahershala Ali). It could have easily been called Jurassic World: The Brains, The Beauty and The Brawn. In their journey to the island, everything goes great, they get the DNA and nobody gets hurt. Oh wait, there are six other films detailing how this NEVER happens.

Chaos ensues (hold onto your butts!) and dinosaurs get mad. Is that the plot for every Jurassic film thus far? Yes. But, does it still manage to thrill audiences? Also, yes! It's sort of the equivalent of being a fan of romance novels; the plots are always eerily similar and you know there's going to be a happy ending, but the fun is in watching how they get to that point. Jurassic World: Rebirth isn't breaking any molds or crafting thought-provoking cinema, it's giving audiences a good time in a format meant to totally engage you with its ridiculousness. And frankly, if you're not a fan of this particular installment, it's only a matter of when, not if, there will be more to come. When it comes to Jurassic films, say it with me now, spared no expense!

In all honesty, this film does lack a bit of cohesiveness, but if you're nitpicking a movie about dinosaurs that have been brought back to life via DNA extractions from fossilized mosquitos, maybe find a better bone to pick? It's a summer film for a reason and much of the joy of the franchise lies in their insistence on continuing a series that refuses to stay extinct. In the words of Dr. Ian Malcom, "Your scientists (filmmakers in this case) were so preoccupied with whether or not they could, they didn't stop to think if they should." But alas, they did. Honestly, as long as they keep making Jurassic movies, audiences (and yours truly) will continue to delight in whatever prehistoric pandemonium is cast our way.

Jurassic World: Rebirth is now playing in theaters.

Navigating Through Medicare: Learn the As, Bs, Cs, and Ds

By Elena Foxx

Understanding Medicare is an essential step in retirement income planning. Most Americans become eligible for Medicare at age 65, and for many, it becomes their primary source of health coverage.

However, Medicare is not all-encompassing. Knowing what it does - and doesn't so - is critical to making informed decisions.

Part A is hospital insurance coverage for inpatient hospital stays, care in a skilled nursing facility (SNF), and hospice care. Other covered services include lab tests, surgeries, and doctor visits, and home health care.

Part B is medical insurance coverage for outpatient care, doctor visits, and other health care providers' services including mental health, preventive services, and durable medical equipment. This coverage helps with day-to-day healthcare costs outside of the hospital.

Part C, also known as Medicare Advantage, is an alternative to Original Medicare. Offered by private insurance companies approved by Medicare, these plans typically include Parts A, B, and sometimes Part D. Some also provide additional benefits, such as vision, hearing, and dental care.

Choosing between Original Medicare and a Medicare Advantage Plan requires a careful comparison of coverage, provider networks, and costs to determine which one is right for you.

Choosing between Original Medicare and a Medicare Advantage Plan requires a careful comparison of coverage, provider networks, and costs to determine which one is right for you.

Part D provides prescription drug coverage. Plans vary, and each has a formulary—a list of covered medications—that is divided into tiers affecting your out-of-pocket costs.

Reviewing the formulary of any plan you are considering is important to ensure it covers your medications affordably.

Planning for healthcare in retirement means more than just signing up for Medicare. It means learning how each part works, understanding the gaps in coverage, and choosing the right combination for your needs and budget.

July is National Minority Mental Health Awareness Month

By Scott Knight

The month aims to raise awareness about the unique challenges faced by minority communities, reduce stigma, and promote access to culturally competent mental health care.

It honors the legacy of Bebe Moore Campbell, an advocate for mental health among minority populations and a co-founder of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI). In 2008, July was nationally declared as Bebe Moore Campbell Minority Mental Health Awareness Month.

According to an article written by the American Psychiatric Association in 2025, African Americans receive poorer quality of care and lack access to culturally competent care. Only one in three African Americans who need mental health care receive it, and they have lower rates of any mental health service use, including prescription medications and outpatient services.

Some barriers still exist when it comes to receiving adequate care. These include distrust of the healthcare system, concerns about family privacy, limited knowledge of available treatments, stigma associated with mental illness, and denial of mental health problems.

Only one in 10 Hispanics with a mental health disorder use mental health services. Some of the reasons are language barriers, lack of insurance, limited knowledge about mental health problems, and the cultural stigma associated with mental illness.

In a recent article published in May 2025, the CDC reported that about 49% of all people who die by suicide have a known, diagnosed mental health condition, and many mental health conditions may go undiagnosed. Ensuring that people get access to mental health care when they need it can help reduce the risk of suicide. Suicide is the fifth leading cause of death for African Americans ages 10-49, and the third leading cause for ages 10-24. Among Hispanics, it is the third leading cause of death for ages 10-24 and ages 10-49.

Only about one in three African Americans seek treatment for their mental health. So how do we break the stigma so that more people receive treatment? NAMI says to engage in four activities.

First, gather information. Stigma stems from a lack of knowledge. Second, speak up. Living with a mental illness doesn't define a person. You are just as capable as anyone else when it comes to living a successful life. Third, remain open. As more African Americans open up about living with a mental illness, we move closer to dismantling the stigma. Fourth, believe people. Taking people seriously when they say they have a mental illness is vital to eradicating stigma.

First, gather information. Second, speak up. Living with a mental illness doesn't define a person. Third, remain open.

The Jason Foundation is a valuable resource for those who are struggling with a mental illness or have a friend or loved one who is struggling. At www.jasonfoundation.com you can learn about the warning signs and risk factors associated with individuals who may be struggling with mental issues and suicidal ideation, as well as locate the nearest Jason Foundation Affiliate Office. Take time to educate yourself on the warning signs and risk factors associated with suicide.

It's Summer! Hit the Road to Historic L.A.

Get your motor running and head out on LA's iconic roadways (nope, not freeways). The open road is liberating, the anticipation of adventure at every turn. The new book Historic Los Angeles Roadsides will steer you to towns and attractions along classic roadways.

Join journalist and Los Angeles native Mimi Slawoff on a tour of LA's historical and whimsical roadside attractions along iconic roadways in these California beach towns, mountains, valleys and deserts.

Step back in time on Route 66, which zigzags through 31 towns from Claremont to Santa Monica. Admire 19th-century architecture in Pasadena, get the scoop on Hollywood history, see the site of a murder-suicide in the Greystone Mansion in Beverly Hills, and walk in the steps of LA's founders downtown.

You'll soak up more than ocean views and sunshine as you cruise along Pacific Coast Highway. Take a stroll on the Redondo Beach horseshoe-shaped pier and watch surfers catch a wave in Malibu.

The curving, scenic roadways in the Santa Monica Mountains lead to historical ranches along Mulholland Highway, the enchanting Topanga Canyon, and Laurel Canyon, a wild rock and roll scene in the 1960s.

This is Slawoff's second book

The book takes you from Route 66 to the Greystone Mansion and the Redondo Beach Pier.

New light on Topanga Canyon and the 101 offramp.

New Traffic Signal on Topanga Canyon Takes Drivers By Surprise

It takes you by surprise.

Driving north on Topanga Canyon Blvd. from Ventura Blvd., you emerge from under the dark 101 overpass into sunlight - and a traffic signal immediately in front of you.

The signal sits just before the westbound offramp of the 101, and just yards from the signal at Burbank Blvd. to the north.

There is no line indicating where to stop if the light is red. More importantly, many drivers are just barreling through the new light because of its location - you don't see it until it's too late.

Valley News Group reached out to CalTrans for an explanation of the location. We received no response.

We have to assume it's to let more traffic off the westbound freeway, but concerns are that the position of the new signal is going to cause more accidents as drivers, unaware they are quickly coming up to a light, will just blow through it.

Be aware and take care when driving north on Topanga. CalTrans did fix the raised pothole problem we addressed in an early edition of this paper, by completing their paving project nine months after it began.

Audubon Society Walk in Malibu Creek State Park

The San Fernando Valley Audubon Society is leading a "leisurely stroll" along Malibu Creek in Malibu Creek State Park on Sunday, July 20, from 8 to 11:30 am.

Birds, deer, bobcats, butterflies, reptiles and, in season, a bewildering array of wildflowers can be found here. The focus will be on finding and identifying many of the over 200 species of birds that have been recorded here. You can expect to see 30 to 50 species during these three- to four-hour walks, depending on the season. Meet at the main lot, which is the second (lower) day-use parking lot per the Google map. Entrance to the park is on the west side of Las Virgenes Road, just south of Mulholland Hwy.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ANGELA HILL in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles
The PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that ANGELA HILL be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
The PETITION requests the decedent's will and docicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available in the file kept by the court.
The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Date: 8/12/25; Time: 8:30 am; Dept. 11, of the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles, located at the Stanley Mosk Courthouse, 111 North Hill Street, Los Angeles, CA 90012.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

REQUEST TO RENEW RESTRAINING ORDER
CASE NO 21CHRO01437

1. Name; Bushra Yasin
823-B North Beverly Glen Boulevard, Los Angeles CA 90077-3150
(424) 245-4840 Fax (424) 645-1190 attorney@partingways.solutions
Attorney: Judith A. Routledge, Attorney and Counselor at Law State Bar No 164084
2. Name of Restrained Person: Azfar Anwar
Request to Renew:
When does your current restraining order expire? 4/12/2025
Has the order been renewed before: No
How long do you want the restraining order to be renewed for: Permanently
Reason for Renewal:
I am afraid or worried that the person in 2 might abuse me in the future because: Since respo*ndent still was (and is) co-owner of the residence (refusing to participate in our dissolution process) he continually would show up randomly claiming that it was his house and yelling at us to leave. He yelled out slurs against me, pulled on locks, doors and windows to gain access to the house, went into the backyard, turned off the water mains, pulled security signs and dragged trash bins placing in front of the main door blocking it.*
We were able to have him served with the DV-130 on 4-27-24 but he did show up on 12-21-24 in violation of the DVRO; however, upon seeing our newly installed camera, he hesitated, appeared to fiddle with what he thought might be the camera, (that was in fact the motion sensor light) backed off, walked the sidewalk to both ends of the house (possibly looking for additional cameras) and finally left.
Since our divorce isn't finalized due to his refusal to participate, the issue of property division is still pending, and my children and I continue to live in fear that he could show up at any moment and try to break into the house again.
The Person in 2 has violated the order
Date violation happened: 12-21-2024
Explain what the person in 2 did:he showed up at the house but hesitated when he saw the newly installed camera, and after circling the house left. This experience was very stressful for both myself and our children because we have no way of anticipating what he may or may not do, and consider ourselves lucky that he didn't do more.
How ofter has the person in 2 violated the order like this? Just this once.
