News in Brief

Neighbors Alarmed as Feds Raid Tarzana Home With Flash Bangs

Residents in the 4800 block of La Montana Circle in Tarzana thought a shooting was taking place when FBI raided the home of chiropractor Hany Malek early Thursday morning, scaling the fence and using flash bangs. The Department of Justice ordered the take-down of Malek and Harold Tobaie of Anaheim in a $135 million Medicare fraud scheme. Malek was accused of ordering medically unnecessary atherectomy arterial surgeries for patients - often times multiple surgeries that harmed the victims and left them in continuous pain - all so they could bill Medicare. "Healthcare fraud is not a victimless crime," Said Darren Lian, Special Agent in charge of IRS Criminal Investigations L.A. office. "It harms patients, drives up healthcare costs, and diverts critical resources away from those who generally need care."

Reseda Rising Saturday Features Art, Music, Dance and Car Show

Councilmember Bob Blumenfield's Reseda Rising this Saturday, October 24, offers a free festival from 5 to 10 pm. The event will have live music, an art market and installations, dance battles and a community resource fair. There will also be a classic car show and beer garden. Reseda Rising is powered by 11:11 Projects, a Valley arts nonprofit uniting multidisciplinary artists through mural production and community art events. The festival will be held on Sherman Way at Lindley. For more information visit resedarising.art.

The Habit Restaurant Offers a Free Meal to "Pay It Forward"

Habit wants to spread kindness for 10 straight days starting October 26 by providing 200,000 free meals with their Habit Hour. Habit is kicking off a chain of generosity by asking recipients to Pay Good Forward. Habit Hour happens at a different surprise time each day. Two hours before: MyHabit members who have subscribed to push notifications will receive an early heads-up with the drop time. Not a member? Download the app. One hour before: Habit will reveal the exact start time on its social channels, @habitburgerandgrill. The first 50 guests at every participating Habit restaurant during the one-hour window will receive a $10 Gotta Habit Dipping Trio Box, which includes a burger cut in half, dipping sauce in the center, five crispy chicken bites, a small side, and a regular drink. Each free meal comes with a mission to pass that kindness along, whether it's helping a neighbor, grabbing coffee for a friend or letting someone go ahead in line.

Exorbitant DWP Bills Spark Protest and Petition

Encino resident Micah Reed has taken on the DWP.

Reed started an online petition after the backlash of protests over outrageously high utility bills hit mailboxes all over Los Angeles.

His own bill hit $3,322 for his home - with the largest portion being $2,100 for electricity.

"It's a standard house, and we put in brand new windows, brand new AC system," he told KTLA. "All I'm doing is just keeping my thermostat at 74 degrees and trying to keep my family comfortable."

He's not alone. There have been growing calls for investigation as DWP customers report their bills tripling in the last few months by hundreds, if not thousands, of dollars.

And it's not just residential customers. Cantor's Deli on Fairfax received a $35,700 bill, $11,000 higher than four months prior.

At press time over 36,000 people have signed the petition at change.org (search "cap the heat tax").

It's now become a political issue. Mayor Karen Bass has told DWP customers to "pay what they can afford" and has asked the DWP board to pause service shutoffs until the end of 2026.

Los Angeles City Controller Kenneth Mejia responded to Reed, saying, "These bills are very expensive. I received your petition and have requested information from LADWP to understand more about the rates they charge and why," he said in the caption. "I've also asked what the mechanisms are to make these bills more affordable and how to get more assistance for Angelenos struggling to pay."

Locally, Councilmember Bob Blumenfield put forth a resolution that the City Council request the Department of Water and Power

(LADWP) to report back in 30 days with:

- ✓ Factors that have led to increases in water and electricity rates over the past 10 years, since the 2016 rate increases, and a comparison of typical bills in the 10 hottest neighborhoods in Los Angeles;

- ✓ Options for aligning rate structure to encourage optimal power usage, including timing and location of smart meter installation and shift toward time-of-use metering;

- ✓ Reasons why customers whose meters are accessible might receive bills with estimated rather than actual usage, or miss entire billing cycles; how LADWP ensures that in such circumstances actual usage is not billed in a higher rate tier; and how LADWP might proactively inform customers of payment programs;

- ✓ Feasibility of detecting anomalous water and/or electricity usage before the end of a billing cycle, and proactively informing customers, and/or allowing customers to receive frequent updates regarding actual utility usage; and

- ✓ Programs to assist customers in reducing water and electricity usage, including energy audits and energy-efficiency programs; and options for proactively providing information about these programs to lower-income households or communities, or customers with higher usage.

In response to all these complaints, DWP issued the following statement.

"LADWP bills two months at a time, and some customers may be receiving bills including August and September charges, which is likely to be one of the highest two-month bills of the year. While our rates are lower than most other major utilities, Los Angeles has just experienced its hottest summer on record, and that can translate into higher electricity usage for some families and businesses."

Interim Chair of the DWP Board David Hanson also told a group of business leaders assembled at the recent State of the Valley that the higher bills were due in part to the extreme heat the city faced in August and September.

To which Reed replied, "In Los Angeles, and especially across the Valley, summer heat routinely tops 100 to 105 degrees. Keeping a home at 75 degrees isn't a luxury; it is basic survival for families, homes and pets. Yet, because of DWP's aggressive tiered pricing system and opaque pass-through charges, residents are effectively penalized with a massive heat tax."

Ross Porter - Hitting a Home Run for Charity

Ross Porter is best known as a sportscaster and play-by-play announcer for the Dodgers, but these days, his best role is passionate father and grandfather who is putting his celebrity to work for a cause he believes in - one that's near and dear to his heart and family.

Porter and his wife Lin, for years Calabasas residents, are now champions for Stillpoint Family Resources.

The nonprofit was formed by his son, Dr. Ross Porter and his wife Jenni, after their first son was born in 1994 with Down Syndrome.

John Michael had three operations in the first 18 months of his life, and survived them all.

But they found out the state of California wasn't much help for families with special needs children. So in 1998 they formed Stillpoint Family Resources, which offers emotional, spiritual and material support for special needs people and their families through publishing, advocacy, pastoral care and online programming. Last year they also purchased a home in Wrightwood, named Villa Providencia, which offers day programs for special needs adults, hospitality for special needs families for whom vacations are unaffordable, and retreats for special needs and faith communities.

Funding these programs is the Ross Porter Celebrity Golf Classic, now in its 20th year.

"Ross came to me in 2006 with an idea to raise revenue," said the senior Porter. "I contacted all the people I knew - Dodgers, entertainers, friends and celebrities - to come play at the tournament."

And they did. Over the years the line-up had Vin

Scully playing 14 times, with Tommy Lasorda, and many of the players at the tournament.

This year's Classic will be held on Monday, November 2, at Wood Ranch Country Club. It will honor Dodgers outfielder Shawn Green with the Vin Scully Award for his loyalty and love for the Stillpoint mission and family.

The event also includes lunch, a raffle and silent auction. For reservations visit stillpointfamilyresources.org.

Today, John Michael is 32

The annual Ross Porter Celebrity Golf Classic raises funds for special needs families.

years old and "the joy of our family" says Porter.

And with him, it is all about their close family. Ross and Lin attend All Souls Anglican Church in Woodland Hills, which Dr. Ross Porter founded. Their daughter Rosalyn teaches at Viewpoint School.

And they are all involved with Stillpoint. As Ross Jr. said, "In 1998, we never could have imagined what it could become. But that's what love can do."

The Who's Tommy Flips Into Pantages Theatre

In 1969, The Who created a rock opera that changed the course of music history. And now, it's back in a dazzling all-new production that feels more relevant than ever.

The Who's Tommy takes the stage at The Pantages Theatre in Hollywood October 27 through November 15.

Tommy is the fourth studio album by the English rock band the Who, released in May 1969. Written primarily by guitarist Pete Townshend, Tommy is a double album and an early rock opera that tells the story of the fictional Tommy Walker and his path to becoming a spiritual leader and messianic figure.

After witnessing his father shoot his rival, the young Tommy Walker is lost in the universe, endlessly and obsessively staring into the mirror. An innate knack for pinball catapults him from reticent adolescent to celebrity savior.

Myth and spectacle combine in this fresh reinvention that includes the unforgettable anthems "I'm Free," "See Me, Feel Me," "Sensation" and "Pinball Wizard."

For tickets visit broadwayinhollywood.com. The Pantages Theatre is located at 6233 Hollywood Blvd.

California is First State to Create an Official Seal for Non-Ultraprocessed Foods

At a bill signing ceremony at UCLA Mattel Children's Hospital, California Governor Gavin Newsom signed Assembly Bill (AB) 2244, landmark legislation that will empower Californians to make better informed and healthier choices by increasing transparency around ultra-processed foods.

Authored by Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel (D-Encino), AB 2244 establishes the first-ever "Non-Ultraprocessed Certified" seal that food manufacturers can place on products that meet clear standards for not being ultra-processed. Modeled after the widely recognized "USDA Organic" label, the seal will provide consumers with a simple, trustworthy way to identify healthier options with a quick glance. The bill also will require grocery stores in California to prominently display products bearing the "Non-Ultraprocessed Certified" seal, thereby making it easier for busy families to find healthier foods quickly and conveniently.

"While Washington D.C. is paralyzed by inaction, Republicans and Democrats in California are joining forces to empower consumers to avoid harmful ultra-processed foods," said Assemblymember Gabriel. "Like the USDA Organic label, this new seal will provide consumers with clear, trustworthy information and make it easier for them to locate healthier foods that are free from harmful additives. Parents shouldn't need a Ph.D. in chemistry to understand what they're feeding their kids. California began this movement three years ago by banning the most dangerous food additives, and with Governor Newsom's continued leadership we are taking another big step forward today."

AB 2244 is the latest in a series of Gabriel-authored laws that have reshaped how California – and increasingly the country – thinks about what's in our food. Last year, Assemblymember Gabriel authored and Governor

Newsom signed into law The Real Food, Healthy Kids Act (AB 1264, 2025), groundbreaking legislation which established the nation's first statutory definition of ultra-processed foods and set up a process to ban harmful products from California schools. Assemblymember Gabriel also successfully passed into law two other landmark bills with bipartisan support: the California Food Safety Act (AB 418, 2023) and the California School Food Safety Act (AB 2316, 2024). Collectively, these laws have helped change the national conversation about food additives and ultra-processed foods, shaped federal policy, and inspired similar legislation across more than 30 other states.

AB 2244 passed with support of a broad coalition that includes the Environmental Working Group, the California Medical Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Diabetes Association, the American Heart Association, the Crohn's & Colitis Foundation, and the United Nurses Associations of California. The bill passed with votes of 32-0 in the State Senate and 72-0 in the State Assembly.

Calabasas Celebrates the Great Pumpkin

Agoura Mayor Jeremy Wolfe, at right, brought his little one to the event.

The City of Calabasas hosted the annual Pumpkin Festival last Sunday at Juan de Anza Park, featuring entertainment, rides, a vendor expo, business expo and beer garden sponsored by Logix Federal Credit Union and hosted by the Calabasas Chamber of Commerce, serving beer from Malibu Beer Garden.

The original Pumpkin Festival was started in 1971 by the Calabasas Chamber and then-president Rodger Sterling (former publisher of the Calabasas Enterprise) and was held on Calabasas Road in front of the Sagebrush Cantina.

The theme not only celebrates fall, but the fact that calabaza in Spanish means pumpkin!

The festival has been held almost every year since, excluding the COVID years, at different locations.

Above, Rick Bilgrien, GM of Cadillac of Calabasas, brought a bright orange 2027 Optiq to the festival.

A dancing fairy enjoyed the festivities.
